BRINGING AFRICA TO THE WORLD AND THE WORLD TO AFRICA.

We are young, but experienced. We are methodical but take risk. We seek quality storytelling and imagery, not names and hype.

Okada Media is the distribution arm to the Nollywood Week Film Festival – a four-day event celebrating the best of the Nigerian film industry since 2013. Similar to the festival, Okada Media will continue to seek new audiences for African content across the globe while providing existing audiences with access to their favorites.

We believe that quality content from Africa shouldn't be seen as the exception but the norm. Let's change this narrative together.

Welcome to Okada Media.
